About VCR Plus+

The number [1234567] you see in the TV grids next to each sports and movie listing, in the daily tips and throughout the movie lists is a PlusCodee. You can easily tape a television show by entering the PlusCode number into your VCR Plus+ unit.

For PlusCodes not listed, call 1-900-454-7587 (95 a minute). Callers must have the date, start time, duration and channel of each show for which PlusCodes are sought.

For information about VCR Plus+ itself, call 1-800-432-1827.

ASK BOB BROCK

Sound off

■ "I'll Fly Away" is a wonderful family show. The writing is excellent. Not only does it teach young children to deal with everyday problems, but it faces the ever-present prejudice that still exists between blacks and whites, as well as other minorities. In places, the script is so sweet and uplifting that it connects my heart strings to my eyes and allows the tears to flow. — MRS. A.L., MCKINNEY.

On the 'Homefront'

■ What's the name and address of the guy who plays Jeff on "Homefront"? Can you tell me a little about him? I really enjoy this new show. What are its chances of being around all season? — J.V., CANTON.

Chandler

Kyle Chandler, who plays Jeff Metcalf on ABC's new Tuesday night series — which has been assured a full season on the network — had a recurring role as Griner in CBS' excellent Vietnam War series, "Tour of Duty," and guest starred on ABC's war drama, "China Beach." A native of Buffalo, N.Y., who grew up in Atlanta and attended the University of Georgia, the 26-year-old Chandler was one of a select group of students who were brought to Los Angeles by ABC-TV as part of a program to develop young talent. Chandler stars, along with Martin Landau and Ellen Burstyn, in the feature film, "The Color of Evening," scheduled for release in 1992. Write Chandler at Lorimar Television, 300 S. Lorimar Plaza, Burbank, Calif. 91505.

No 'Concentration' here

■ The other day I was talking to my daughter, who lives outside of San Francisco. She said that "Classic Concentration" was back on the air there on the NBC affiliate. "Classic Concentration," with Alex Trebek, has long been a favorite with both of us. Is the show in syndication or is it back on the network? Is there a chance we'll see it here? — C.L., LEWISVILLE.

In October, NBC put repeats of "CC" back in its morning lineup in place of a magazine show, "Cover to Cover," which was never cleared locally by KXAS-Channel 5. Channel 5 won't be clearing for "Classic Concentration," either. Sorry.

Post scribbles

■ In the Nov. 17 "Ask Bob Brock," in a letter regarding Grand Prairie's Charlie Dell, you enumerated the actors on the series, "Evening Shade," with Dallas area ties. Why did you omit the wife of the doctor, played by Dallas actress Ann Wedgeworth? In an earlier issue, you stated Ann was from a town somewhere in West Texas. I may not know where Ann was born, but I do know she graduated from Highland Park High School in June 1950. She and I shared some of the same classes and were in the same graduating class. Thank you for letting me set the record straight. — B.K.S., DALLAS.

Thank you for jogging my memory that the Abilene-born Ann did indeed grow up in Dallas.

■ I saw a couple of people from this area win big money recently on "Wheel of Fortune." Will the show be coming to Dallas or Fort Worth any time soon for try-outs? If not, how do I go about getting on the show? — E.L., HURST.

For information about becoming a contestant, write "Wheel of Fortune," 3400 Riverside Dr., Burbank, Calif. 91505.

■ My husband and I are curious whether there were other actors like Steve McQueen who did their own stunts? I know that most actors and actresses can't do their own stunts because of the insurance on their lives. How was McQueen able to do his own? — MRS. G.W.S., BALCH SPRINGS.

McQueen did his own stunt work up to a point, just as many actors continue to do today, particularly Patrick Swayze. However, Burt Reynolds, James Garner, James Arness and Lee Majors, along with a number of others, probably wish today they hadn't attempted some of the stunts they did earlier in their careers. If the stunt is truly dangerous, it's best left to a professional stuntperson.

■ What happened to Allan Frio, who used to co-anchor "Hard Copy"? — J.N.J., ROWLETT.

Frio returned to anchoring real news in Sacramento, Calif.

■ I am 63 years old and enjoyed Barbara Hale when she was in the movies and continue to enjoy her today in the "Perry Mason" series. I know she was married to an actor named Bill Williams, who starred in a western TV series. Is he still alive? What was the name of the series in which he starred? — MRS. S.W., DALLAS.

Hale

Williams, who starred in the TV western "Kit Carson," is 75. He and 70-year-old Barbara celebrated their 46th wedding anniversary in June. They have three children — including actor William Katt — and four grandchildren. Trivia question: Who played Della Street to Monte Markham's Perry Mason in the ill-advised resurrection that lasted only one season in 1973? Answer in next week's "Ask Bob Brock."

■ On "Saturday Night Live," there is a skit called "It's Pat." Is the person who plays Pat a male or a female? — L.V., CARROLLTON.

"SNL" regular Julia Sweeney plays the androgynous character of Pat.

■ Do you know where I can purchase a made-for-TV movie, "Consenting Adults," with Marlo Thomas? — K.R., GARLAND.

I'd check with my favorite video store. The 1985 film, based on a Laura Z. Hobson novel, is available on cassette.

Trivia answer

Last week's question concerned Ozzie and Harriet Nelson's follow-up show to their 14-year success, "The Adventures of Ozzie and Harriet." Answer: The 1973 syndicated series, "Ozzie's Girls." Plotwise, with their sons married and away, Ozzie and Harriet took in two college girls as boarders.

Mariel goes to 'Wars' for an adult image

By Jerry Buck
AP TELEVISION WRITER

Mariel Hemingway wants to start acting her age.

She gets the chance on ABC's "Civil Wars," playing Sydney Guilford, a successful Manhattan divorce lawyer whose personal life is a shambles.

The Wednesday night show from Steven Bochco Productions, which brought you "L.A. Law," is the 30-year-old actress' first television series after a movie career of less mature roles.

"This helps me to change my image and get out there as an adult," she said. "I think many people, particularly producers and directors, had put me in a time warp and thought of me only as the girl in Manhattan' or Personal Best' or Star 80.'

"I've done a lot since then . . . but I don't think the message got out — plus, I took a lot of time out to have children. What better opportunity to let people know I've grown up than in a quality television series."

"Civil Wars" also stars Peter Onorati, last seen as the bad cop in another Bochco show, "Cop Rock." He becomes Sydney's new associate after her first partner suffers a nervous breakdown because of overwork.

At first, Hemingway said she resisted reading the pilot script because she didn't want to do a series. But when her agent persuaded her to read it, she said, the writing was so good that she immediately met with the producers.

"You think — divorce lawyers — it's going to be the divorce of the week," she said. "But it's really fascinating. You deal with how people fall in love, then why they fall out of love.

"What happens is that divorce causes a tremendous upheaval in your life. People you think you know suddenly do surprising things. Sydney examines these people, but it hasn't helped her own personal life."

One of the things she likes about her character is that she isn't perfect.

"She'd be a bore to play if she was," Hemingway said. "I think the fact that she can be successful on one side and unsuccessful in her personal life makes it interesting. A lot of career women seem to have that problem because they appear to be threatening to men."

Mariel Hemingway stars with Peter Onorati in Steven Bochco's new Wednesday night ABC series about divorce lawyers, "Civil Wars."

The grind of making a TV series has helped her improve her skills, she said.

"The schedule for this show, as hard as it is, is great for learning how to work," she said. "You get to practice your craft more than doing one or two pictures a year. We do eight pages of dialogue a day. In pictures, if we did three, that was pushing it."

Hemingway is the granddaughter of novelist Ernest Hemingway, and made her movie debut at the age of 13 in "Lipstick." Her older sister, Margaux Hemingway, starred in the movie. But Mariel, who made only a few acting appearances as a teen-ager, says she preferred living in Idaho — where she could ski, swim, hike and go horseback riding.

When she was 16, Woody Allen cast her as his very underage girlfriend in "Manhattan." She received an Oscar nomination as best supporting actress. At 18, she played the lead in the movie "Personal Best" about top female track-and-field performers. Next, she played doomed Playboy Playmate Dorothy Stratten in "Star 80."

Other movies include "Creator," "The Mean Season," "Superman IV," "Sunset" and the miniseries "Amerika." This past summer, she played dual roles in "Delirious."

Her most recent movie, "Falling From Grace," will be released in February.

"Larry McMurtry wrote it, and in some ways it's like The Last Picture Show,' " she said. "It's a slice of life about a rock singer who wants to go back to his hometown in Indiana to live. John Mellancamp is the singer, I'm his wife. I'm more or less his conscience, who tries to show him what he's about."

Hemingway has two daughters, Dree and Langley, ages 4 and 2, and is married to writer-producer Stephen Crisman.

"We met when he was running the Hard Rock Cafe in New York," she said. "I saw him across a crowded room and said, That's the man I want to marry.' I met him the next day."

Her husband immediately nicknamed her Sam, and they own two restaurants in New York and one in Dallas called Sam's Cafe.

At one time, she and Crisman were going to do "Across the River and Into the Trees," based on her grandfather's book. Gene Hackman was to appear in it, but it never was made.

"His last novel was Garden of Eden,' which is wonderful," she said of her grandfather. "It's an incredible story, and I'd love to do that."

John Denver

Denver in Montana

John Denver and country music stars Clint Black, Patty Loveless and Kathy Mattea celebrate the Christmas season at the scenic Native America reservation at Fort Belknap, Montana, in "John Denver's Montana Christmas Skies."

The one-hour special, in which Denver is accompanied by 4,000 Assiniboine and Gross Ventre Indians, will be seen at 9 p.m. Friday on CBS-Channel 4.

The Montana prairie hideaway sets the stage for a celebration of holiday cheer, music and a taste of local life.

Denver and his guests, through their music, add an acoustical accent to a picturesque look at the culture, art and tradition of the Native American residents.

As a tribute to the people of Fort Belknap, Denver is joined by the Indian Children's Choir in a concert performance for 2,000 Native American families.

Also included in the Denver special is a look at the unique wildlife of the area, including the running of a herd of buffalo.

7 P.M. (4) EVENING SHADE: Ava, in her role as prosecuting attorney, may have to put Fontana, her father's fiance, out of work by shutting down her show when the town gets in an uproar over nude dancing. [3489]

7 P.M. (8) MACGYVER: MacGyver gets caught up in a complex plot with an old friend (Shelley Berman), whose mission is to return a notorious terrorist from the Caribbean to the United States via a daring helicopter raid. (R). [77557]

7 P.M. (13) MIRACLE OF LIFE: Encore of the award-winning documentary that chronicles the moment of conception and the progressive development of a human being from a sphere of cells. (R). [3516422]

7 P.M. (33) BILLBOARD MUSIC AWARDS: The only music competition based on marketplace tallies, record sales and radio airplay, this awards show will feature performances by Color Me Badd, C+C Music Factory, John Mellencamp, LL Cool J, Queensryche, Big Audio Dynamite II, and Genesis, making its first broadcast appearance since 1988. Paul Schaffer will host for a second year. Among the scheduled presenters are Vanessa Williams, Young MC and Richard Marx, and award recipients R.E.M., Dwight Yoakum, Garth Brooks, Bryan Adams, Mariah Carey, Van Halen, Ralph Tresvant and The Rude Boys. [13996]

7:30 P.M. (4) MAJOR DAD: While Gunny frantically works on streamlining the budget, a land developer draws up plans to tear down Camp Hollister and turn it into a shopping mall. But Gen. Craig gets the miracle he's been waiting for when an endangered turtle and her rare eggs develops an unusual fondness for the major and makes her home under the MacGillis' porch. [422]

8 P.M. (4) MURPHY BROWN: Frank gets his first Humboldt Award — after 10 nominations with no wins — but when his ego gets the better of him, his colleagues put him in his place. Harry Smith of "CBS This Morning" guests. [9809]

TUESDAY TIPS DECEMBER 10

ON THE AIR

7 P.M. (4) RESCUE 911: A sailboat traps a man underwater, a 70-year-old runner suffers cardiac arrest after completing a race, a SWAT team arrives on-scene as a man holds his brothers hostage, and a 14-year-old gets tongue stuck on bottom of freezer. [4855]

7 P.M. (8) FULL HOUSE: As parenthood approaches, Jesse and Rebecca think they know everything about it — until they get a preview of their coming attraction(s); and little Michelle is overwhelmed by the mysterious world of kindergarten. (R). [4590]

7:30 P.M. (2) FIRING LINE: Topic: "Is Communism Really Over?" Guest: Mortimer Adler. [403]

7:30 P.M. (8) HOME IMPROVEMENT: Tim temporarily relieves Jill of her domestic duties, and it's an exhilarating experience for him and the boys as they power-clean the house. It's all because Jill needs time alone to prepare her fund-raising speech, an impending event that has her scared out of her wits. [6497]

8 P.M. (8) ROSEANNE: Teenage daughter Becky drops the bombshell that she'd like help from Roseanne in seeking birth control. Upon hearing this request, Roseanne and Dan struggle to maintain their calm, adult-like composure. (R). [7010]

8:30 P.M. (8) COACH: Hayden's happiness over his team's first bowl bid is short-lived. His mentor and former coach is signed to play opposite him and plans to kick butt from Hilo to Honolulu. Pt. 1 of 2. [9045]

9 P.M. (2) HAVEL'S AUDIENCE WITH HISTORY: Paul Newman hosts this 1-hr. documentary centered around the first eprformance in Czechoslovakia of President Vaclav Havel's play, "Audience," from rehearals to opening night. [8671]

9 P.M. (8) HOMEFRONT: Wide-eyed Ginger and Jeff arrive in glamorous, thrilling Hollywood; but as they prepare for their big screen test, they learn that all is not gold in the glitter capital. Then, Ginger breaks Jeff's heart with a startling move aimed at making her personal dreams come true. [54478]

10:35 P.M. (4) GOLDEN GIRLS: Blanche considers a marriage proposal from a man with children. (R). [8359010]

10:35 P.M. (5) TONIGHT SHOW: Guest host Jay Leno with singer Barry Manilow and political analyst Mark Shields. [1166855]

10:35 P.M. (8) ENTERTAINMENT TONIGHT: Steve Martin talks about his new film, "Grand Canyon." [1626565]

11 P.M. (13) STRANGE CASE OF THE END OF CIVILIZATION AS WE KNOW IT: The bungling grandson of the legendary Sherlock Holmes is summoned to a conference by the desperated Commissioner of Police to lay plans for the capture of Moriarty before he gains control of the world. John Cleese and Arthur Lowe star. [21671]

12:05 A.M. (5) LATE NIGHT WITH DAVID LETTERMAN: Actor Joe Mantegna and Stupid Human Tricks. [8866492]

1:05 P.M. (5) LATER WITH BOB COSTAS: Pt. 1 of 2-pt. interview with actor Robert Duvall. (R). [7838102]

CABLE CALLS

11 A.M. (TNN) COOKIN' U.S.A.: Host Merle Ellis, food personality and author, prepares two desert recipes from William Woys Weaver's book, "The Christmas Cook." Ellis prepares New Orleans Gingerbread and Twelfth Night Cake, a fruitcake-life dessert that contains two dried beans that supposedly bring good luck to any person who finds them in their piece of cake. [164300]

7 P.M. (DISNEY) THE BOY WHO DREAMED CHRISTMAS: New animated special about a boy who, on Christmas Eve, uses his computer to access the list of toys he hopes to see under his tree the next morning. [427861]

7 P.M. (TNN) RICKY VAN SHELTON SINGS CHRISTMAS: Shelton performs songs from his Christmas album. [889687]

9 P.M. (HBO) PLAY BY PLAY: A HISTORY OF SPORTS TELEVISION: Conclusion of 2-pt. documentary that chronicles that evolution of sports on TV. The special is a unique cooperative effort of ABC, CBS, NBC and ESPN, featuring footage of memorable events and the recollections of the people who covered them. Hosts are Bob Costas, Curt Gowdy, Jim Lampley, Brent Musberger, Jim McKay and Pat Summerall. [587381]

BANKRUPTCY. A TEN-YEAR MISTAKE.

- Bankruptcy does not wipe your credit slate clean and give you a "fresh start."
- When you file for bankruptcy, it stays on your credit report for up to 10 years.
- You'll have trouble getting credit. Creditors are reluctant and seldom extend credit to someone who has filed for bankruptcy.
- You'll have problems getting any type of loan—for a car, a home, credit cards, education or personal needs.

WEDNESDAY TIPS DECEMBER 11

ON THE AIR

7 P.M. (8) DINOSAURS: These mammoth reptiles the world over are preparing to observe their time-honored tradition of Refrigerator Day — a celebration, with carols and pageants, of the invention that makes modern life possible. But there is no joy in the Sinclair home: Earl got short-changed on his bonus and the holiest of appliances has been repossessed. [9459]

7 P.M. (13) LES BROWN SPECIALS: Encores of three specials by speaker/tariner Brown: "You Deserve," "The Power to Changes" and "Live Your Dreams, Get Past Your Fears." (R). [81441121]

7:30 P.M. (4) TWAS THE NIGHT BEFORE CHRISTMAS: Encore of the animated musical special narrated by Joel Grey and adapted from Clement Moore's Christmas poem. (R). [492]

7:30 P.M. (8) WONDER YEARS: This particular wonder year, Kevin perceives, for the first time, a change in the spirit surrounding his family's Christmas party. His parents have tried just as hard as ever to make it a success, but — though they can't bring themselves to admit it — the event has lost much of its magic. [5558]

8 P.M. (8) DOOGIE HOWSER, M.D.: Doogie learns the truth about beauty when he becomes attracted to the hospital's research librarian, a young woman with intelligence, sparkle, wit — and a big nose. [5879]

8 P.M. (39) HOLLYWOOD CHRISTMAS PARADE: Charlton Heston is grand marshal and Bob Eubanks and Leeza Gibbons are hosts of this annual parade that travels a three-mile route up famous Hollywood and Sunset Boulevards. [37527]

8:30 P.M. (8) ANYTHING BUT LOVE: Marty is ecstatic when Patrick asks him along on a photo shoot of gorgeous triplets, but Hannah suspects that Patrick is up to his old tricks — using Marty as a means of getting closer to her — on the conclusion of this 2-pt. episode. John Ritter guest stars as Patrick Serreau. [7614]

9 P.M. (2) HALFTIME: Program profiling five men from the Yale class of 1963. They speak candidly about career failure, infidelity, sexual

'Virginia's' Asner becomes yuletide fixture

By Jay Bobbin
TRIBUNE MEDIA SERVICES

Last year, one of TV's best-known actors became linked with a famous holiday story, and they've been brought together again this year.

On public television's 1990 "Christmas at Pops" special, seven-time Emmy Award winner Edward Asner read the celebrated 1897 newspaper editorial "Yes, Virginia, There Is a Santa Claus," written by New York Sun reporter Frank P. Church in response to an 8-year-old girl's query as to whether Kris Kringle actually existed. That long-beloved piece has inspired a new ABC drama by the same name that airs today at 8 p.m. on WFAA-Channel 8. It presents Charles Bronson in a rare home-screen appearance as the journalist and Asner as the Sun's publisher, who gives him the assignment to answer the letter sent by young Virginia O'Hanlan. The child is played by newcomer Katharine Isobel, and her father — a jobless Irish immigrant upset by not being able to give his family a first-class holiday celebration — is portrayed by "Waltons" alumnus Richard Thomas.

Also co-starring currently in the CBS series "The Trials of Rosie O'Neill," the warm and eloquent Asner muses that he's "acquiring a track record with this letter and this little girl. This gave me a chance to go back to Vancouver [where the film was shot], and I had a marvelous time there, and it also gave me a chance to work with Charlie [Bronson]. He's wonderful."

Asner describes his role as a character who "fills out his vest, let's put it that way. He puffs heavily on his cigars, and there's a certain ho-ho-ho aspect to him, but he's essentially very caring toward the tragic figure represented by Bronson. In a low-key manner, he demonstrates his concern, and puts muscle into that concern."

As for the original "Yes, Virginia . . . " article, Asner says, "It's a wonderfully crafted piece and, no matter who you are, it's also an affecting one."

In addition to Sunday's film and his "Pops" venture, which many PBS stations are repeating this yuletide, the former "Lou Grant" has participated in several other seasonal programs including another public-TV special, "Hanukkah" and the Disney-produced drama "The Christmas Star."

Ed Asner plays a publisher in ABC's "Yes, Virginia, There Is a Santa Claus."

With a laugh, Asner says, "It's amazing how I've become Father Christmas in so many respects. Actually, people would be more correct if they began to visualize me as the Grinch. I think they'd be closer to the mark, because I often think of myself as a rascally curmudgeon."

However, yet another of Asner's annual entries is a bona fide television classic, seen plentifully in local syndication each December: "The Gathering," the Emmy-winning 1977 drama about a terminally ill businessman who draws his widely dispersed family together for his final holiday.

"James Poe's script was wonderful to read," Asner remembers, "but getting it on its feet was very difficult, and [director] Randal Kleiser did a phenomenal job of putting it all together. I don't think I've ever seen a finer-cast show."

Co-stars of "The Gathering" included Maureen Stapleton, Veronica Hamel, Stephanie Zimbalist, Gregory Harrison, "Longtime Companion's" Bruce Davison and "Doogie Howser, M.D.'s" Lawrence Pressman.

With a full slate of activities that includes his ongoing recording of classic works for BBC Radio — with Richard Dreyfuss, Tyne Daly and Marsha Mason, among many others — as well as his stint in the recent Lifetime mystery "Silent Motive" and his part in director Oliver Stone's much-anticipated new movie "JFK," Asner deems 1991 to have been "an unbelievable year," following on the heels of a terrible year. "I worked once in 1990, but along the way, I've become a cartoon voice par excellence."

Indeed, Asner's vocal skills can be heard on the syndicated series "Captain Planet and the Planeteers," CBS' upcoming Hanna-Barbera series "Fish Police" and a new animated version of "Batman." The results might seem aimed largely at younger viewers, but Asner maintains, "It's hard work, lemme tell ya, but I love the challenge."

Shaffer revels in hosting Billboard Awards

By Jay Bobbin
TRIBUNE MEDIA SERVICES

On some award shows, viewers might wonder if the host really knows what he's talking about. This week, that won't be a problem.

Paul Shaffer, the ever-hip and melodically expert bandleader and sidekick on NBC's "Late Night With David Letterman," will preside for the second consecutive year as Fox-Channel 33 televises the 1991 Billboard Music Awards Monday at 7 p.m.

Inaugurated in 1990, the ceremony salutes the top artists of the past 12 months — as determined by the music-industry publication Billboard — in different areas ranging from adult-contemporary and pop to country and rap.

Among those slated to appear on the two-hour show from Los Angeles are Bryan Adams, Big Audio Dynamite II, Garth Brooks, C+C Music Factory, Mariah Carey, Color Me Badd, LL Cool J, Richard Marx, John Mellencamp, Queensryche, R.E.M., Van Halen and Dwight Yoakam.

An added highlight will be the first network-TV performance in more than three years by Genesis, whose lead singer Phil Collins won three solo honors at the first Billboard Awards.

"I had the time of my life doing this last year," says the perpetually laid-back Shaffer, who then hastens to add, "I'm serious! I know that all entertainers, especially that I like to parody, would say something like that. Let's face it, though, it's very exciting for me. It only has people who have had number-one records, so there are no losers in this thing. It's just a night to listen to some top music and give out some awards, and I find that very cool.

"As somebody who's gone to his share of award shows, another thing I find neat is that there are no VIPs sitting in the front. It's all fans, contest-winners and people who really want to be there. You're working to a crowd that isn't jaded, and from doing the Letterman show on a daily basis, I can say that the audience can make all the difference."

One big difference for Shaffer this time is that he can relax after the show, since he's on vacation and doesn't have to immediately get back to New York for the Letterman show.

"I'm looking forward to seeing some of the people who, in some cases, were not so successful when I first met them. We had R.E.M. on Letterman' pretty early in their career, and man, they looked totally different. But, of course, we all do. The C+C Music Factory guys did a dance remix for me on my last album, and it's great to see that they're doing so well. I've also played with (country star) Dwight Yoakam a bunch of times."

Though he's still working when he hosts it, the Billboard ceremony also is a vacation of sorts for Shaffer.

"It's so great," he enthuses, "because I really do groove on this. I think that's the most important thing a host can do, not to the degree that he starts to look silly, but I have no (musical) responsibility. I don't have to worry about anybody's tempos on that night, and I really do get to enjoy myself. Last year, I got to kiss Lisa Stansfield, so what could be bad?"

If his role on "Late Night With David Letterman" — which will mark it 10th anniversary early in 1992 — has done anything for Shaffer, it has established him as what he terms "the arbitrator of hip."

However, he reveals that with that persona, "I'm also making fun of myself, this kid from Canada who always wanted to be so hip. I'm not doing it totally straight, but it's also important to me to look at the entertainers who are a little too hip for the room in some cases, and to try not to be like that."

R.E.M. is scheduled to perform on Monday night's Billboard Awards special on the Fox Network.

■ "Terminator 2: Judgment Day": The video ads boldly say, "How can a film this big fit into a box this small?" Although they refer to the cassette box, what about the television box?

Arnold Schwarzenegger

James Cameron's lavishly budgeted (between $90 million and $110 million) sequel to his own low-budgeted 1984 actioner is such an explosive, towering experience on the big screen that any viewing on the tube will immediately lose jaw-dropping points. Somehow Arnold's more effective when he doesn't fit into your living room.

That's not going to stoprentals, though, of the most successful movie of 1991, and it shouldn't. This was the whomp-a-thon to beat this year as Schwarzenegger, playing a good Terminator this time, battled the indestructible T-1000 model Terminator (Robert Patrick), a villain to fear if there ever was one, and perhaps the best foe Arnie's had yet.

The basic plot line is that Arnie has been sent from 2029 A.D. to protect Sarah Connor (Linda Hamilton) and her son John (Edward Furlong), destined to save the Earth. The T-1000, however, has shape-changing, reparative powers unseen in alien movie history. Credit Cameron and his crack F/X men with the dazzling visual wizardry (a sure Oscar winner), and if the rhetoric about world peace doesn't wash, you can settle for the tongue-in-cheek conceit that Arnold doesn't kill anybody in the film. Still, if you endured any of the violence he nevertheless perpetrates, you'd want to be dead. Rated R. LIVE Home Video.

NEW VIDEO RELEASES

By Robert Abele

Here's what's new on videocassette this week:

■ "A Rage in Harlem": It seems natural that the new boon in African-American filmmaking would lead back to Chester Himes novels — gritty, violent, aggressively funny tales of '50s Harlem life. This adaptation from director Bill Duke has the violence and a good deal of humor, but suffers from sketchiness of plot and character — things move fast but never quite gel into the crazed caper farce the filmmakers envisioned. Appealing performances come from Forest Whitaker, as a religious nerd sucked into a whirlwind romance/gold scam, and Robin Givens in a humorous semi-femme fatale role. Danny Glover adds charm as Easy Money, a wily mobster who loves his cat. Rated R. HBO Home Video.

■ "Rude Boy": This 1980 documentarylike feature is both narrative and concert film, documenting not just the performing energy of punk mainstays The Clash but also the societal environment that gave their music vitality. Ray Gange plays a disaffected British youth with anarchist tendencies — he gets a job as a roadie with the band and learns that association isn't the same as action when it comes to England's turgid political climate. Clash fans will enjoy the random backstage/studio banter with Joe Strummer, Paul Simonon, Mick Jones and Topper Headon — rarely have rock musicians been used so well as forces within a movie instead of as preening marketing ploys. Rated R. SMV Home Video.

■ "Drop Dead Fred": Exceedingly unpleasant comedy that stars Phoebe Cates as an emotionally bewildered woman with a philandering husband and an overbearing mother. When the chips really fall hard — she loses her job, hubby and car in the same day — she subconsciously conjures up her imaginary childhood friend Drop Dead

A scene from 'A Rage in Harlem,' a film adaptation of a Chester Himes novel based on life in Harlem in the 1950's

Fred (British comedian Rik Mayall). Much like "Beetlejuice," Fred is a crazed mischief maker who makes things right in the end, but the preposterousness and crassness of his actions make this an uninteresting gross-out epic that annoyingly makes light of emotional child abuse. Rated PG-13. LIVE Home Video.

■ "This Gun For Hire": Tepid remake of the 1942 Alan Ladd thriller based on Graham Greene's novel. Here, Robert Wagner is the cool hit man out for revenge in New Orleans after he was set up to take the fall for a devious political assassination. "Hart to Hart's " suave millionaire adventurer can't muster up enough seething nihilistic anger to charge the screen and instead looks like, well, millionaire adventurer Jonathan Hart. Rated R. MCA/Universal Home Video.

■ "Weld": Neil Young & Crazy Horse's tour for their appropriately titled "Ragged Glory" album has been given refreshing treatment for video — no swooping cameras, machine-gun editing or MTV tricks. It's just Neil and the boys cranking it up and dishing it out from standards such as "Cinnamon Girl" and "Cortez the Killer" to lots of new stuff like 1989's "Rockin' in the Free World" and "Mansion on the Hill." It's a high-caliber fuzzfest with humorous cutaways to fans offering peace signs and mouthing the songs, every once in a while forgetting the words. Warner Reprise Home Video.

John Ritter stars as single parent raising his son (Michael Oliver), in the sequel 'Problem Child 2'

■ "Problem Child 2": As if one 90-minute nightmare wasn't enough, this rushed-into-release sequel delivers more of the same nauseating destruction jokes that prevailed in the summer of 1990. Hapless father John Ritter, now single, has dragged demonic Junior (Michael Oliver) to another city to settle down — they don't, and neither will your stomach. From multiple urination and defecation jokes to a stultifying vomit montage, this is truly a family film for dysfunctional families. Rated PG-13. MCA/Universal Home Video.

VIDEO VIEWS

This Christmas, cable sports channel ESPN will offer some video stocking stuffers for your sports-obsessed loved ones. Ranging from the humorous to the instructional, they are available in stores:

■ "Amazing Biff Bam Boom Anything Goes Sports Bloopers II": It's the follow-up to ESPN's most popular video, another collection of zippy sports yucks hosted by Jay Johnstone, with footage from rodeos to auto racing. $9.95.

■ "Super Slams and Spectacular Plays": Although it's a smattering of thrilling plays by a variety of basketball's greats, interest in owning footage of great "Magic" Johnson moments since his highly publicized retirement could send sales through the roof. Hosted by John Saunders. $9.95.

■ "Cross Training With Wilt Chamberlain": No, cross training doesn't refer to NBA legend Chamberlain's 20,000 women, but to his personal cross-training program for those with busy lifestyles. $9.95.

■ "Anja Schreiner's Upper Body Workout" and "Anja Schreiner's Lower Body Workout": Schreiner, ESPN's fitness and body-training expert, lays out her personal fitness routine of circuit training and free weights. $9.95 each.

■ "Expedition Earth": This adventure, wildlife and environment series showcases dangerous ventures into far-reaching locations. Hosted by Peter Benchley, the first four volumes — on the Grand Canyon, a balloon flight around the world, northern Pakistani mountains and Cocos Island — are available. $19.95 each.

THE WEEK'S BEST MOVIES

Whoopi Goldberg stars in the drama 'The Long Walk Home,' Friday at 1 p.m. on SHOWTIME.

SUNDAY

THE BEST YEARS OF OUR LIVES, 12 P.M. (KDAF): Emotionally charged post-World War II drama about three vets adjusting to life back home. This 1946 Best Picture winner (it beat out "It's a Wonderful Life") is a landmark American film for its sensitive subject matter.

VICTOR/VICTORIA, 1 P.M. (TMC): Sparkling Blake Edwards sex comedy is a satisfying blend of sophistication and naughtiness. Julie Andrews is a down-and-out '30s Parisian singer who poses as a female impersonator to become successful and falls for mobster James Garner.

DUCK SOUP, 4 P.M., 10:30 P.M. (AMC): Riotous Marx Brothers film, hands down their funniest, with the boys defending Fredonia against outer and inner forces. Inspired, timeless zaniness with, fortunately, no romantic subplots to muck things up.

MONKEY BUSINESS, 5:30 P.M., 12 A.M. (AMC): The Marx Brothers stow away on an ocean liner and try to pass themselves off as Maurice Chevalier. That's just one of the gaggle of great moments this uproarious comedy provides. Subversive, nose-thumbing humor at its best.

MONDAY

CHILDREN OF PARADISE, 7 P.M. (CINE): This 1943 film is one of cinema's all-time joys and what the French call their greatest film achievement. It's a grand love story of the arts that follows a beautiful woman's three fated lovers — a mime, a criminal and an aristocrat.

BLUE VELVET, 9 P.M. (SHOW): Now-classic neo-bizarre feast, this David Lynch film defines the putrid underbelly of small-town America as wide-eyed Kyle MacLachlan explores a strange murder that leads him to singer Isabella Rossellini and psycho Dennis Hopper.

LUST FOR LIFE, 1 A.M. (TNT): Hollywood's 1956 bio of painter Vincent Van Gogh is strong stuff, thanks to vibrant performances by Kirk Douglas as Van Gogh and Anthony Quinn (an Oscar winner) as Paul Gauguin. Wide-screen composition will be lost on TV, though.

TUESDAY

REAR WINDOW, 8 P.M. (USA): One of Hitchcock's most celebrated films, this voyeuristic thriller stars James Stewart as a wheelchair-ridden photographer who has taken to spying on his fellow apartment dwellers, only to get involved in a possible murder. Superb suspense and wit.

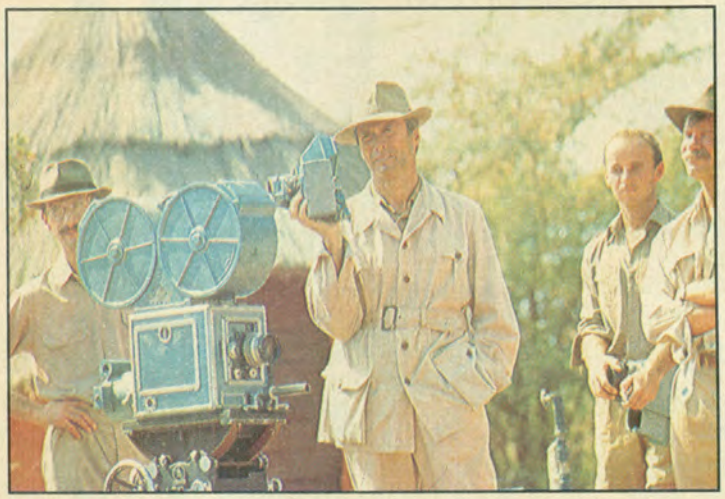
ADAM'S RIB, 2 A.M. (DISN): The most famous pairing of Spencer Tracy and Katharine Hepburn was for this 1949 legal comedy. As married lawyers on opposite sides of a women's rights case, they rise above the gimmick to bring sly wit and intelligence to the premise.

WEDNESDAY

HAMLET, 12 P.M., 10:30 P.M. (HBO): Movie hunk Mel Gibson proves his mettle with the meaty stuff in this serviceably directed version of Shakespeare's play about the tortured Dane. Glenn Close and Helena Bonham Carter are also quite good.

MR. DEEDS GOES TO TOWN, 11 P.M. (TMC): Quintessential Frank Capra film with Gary Cooper as "pixilated" poet-turned-millionaire Longfellow Deeds, who finds the world of money-managing somewhat harder when you've actually got too much money. Warm, funny and moving.

SEVEN BRIDES FOR SEVEN BROTHERS, 11:30 P.M. (TNT): Robust screen musical about six burly, fur-trapping brothers who try to follow the eldest's lead in marrying. Dance numbers by Michael Kidd are unparalleled in their exuberance. Directed by Stanley Donen.



Clilnt Eastwood plays a filmmaker in 'White Hunter, Black Heart,' Saturday at noon on CINE.

FRIDAY

THE LONG WALK HOME, 1 P.M. (SHOW): Stirring drama about an Alabama family's slow burn over the 1955 bus boycott that sparked the civil rights movement. Told from the points of view of a black domestic and her white employers, the film finds a unique and heartfelt women's standpoint.

THE MAN WHO WOULD BE KING, 2 A.M. (KTVT): Rousing adventure based on Rudyard Kipling story with British rogues Sean Connery and Michael Caine off to undermine and become deities in the Indian land of Kafiristan. Directed with consummate gusto by John Huston.

Mel Gibson in 'Hamlet' Wednesday at noon and 10:30 p.m. on HBO

SATURDAY

WHITE HUNTER, BLACK HEART, 12 P.M. (CINE): Thought-provoking directorial effort from Clint Eastwood in which he stars as a filmmaker in Africa balancing his time between shooting film and shooting an elephant. Loosely based on John Huston and the making of "The African Queen."

BEDKNOBS AND BROOMSTICKS, 8 P.M. (DISN): In between "Mary Poppins" and "Who Framed Roger Rabbit" was this live action/animation charmer with Angela Lansbury as a spunky witch helping the English foil Nazi invasions during World War II. Wonderful animation sequences.

THURSDAY

THURSDAY TIPS DECEMBER 12

ON THE AIR

7 P.M. (4) TOP COPS: A police officer in Cleveland confronts a gunman who is holding his family hostage, a New York detective hunts a drug dealer wanted for murder, and a Texas officer tracks down a young girl who has been buried alive on Galveston Island. [3497]

7 P.M. (8) PROS AND CONS: When a homicide-detective friend of O'Hannon's dies, O'Hannon and Bird pick up a case that obsessed the man for more than 20 years — the murder of an archbishop. [12034]

7 P.M. (13) CHRISTMAS WITH THE MORMON TABERNACLE CHOIR AND SHIRLEY VERRETT: Encore of the holiday special featuring the diva and the famous choir. (R). [3454638]

7 P.M. (33) SIMPSONS: Lisa's entry in the Reading Digest "Patriots of Tomorrow" Essay Contest wins the Simpsons family a trip to Washington, D.C. (R). [4102]

7:30 P.M. (2) LIFE MATTERS: Topic of the KERA-produced show is "Obesity." (R).[473]

7:30 P.M. (33) DREXELL'S CLASS: Drexell goes into the Santa business but gets stuck holding the bag. [299]

8 P.M. (4) TRIALS OF ROSIE O'NEILL: Rosie changes her mind about a defendant whom she has been forced to represent when she finds evidence that he's not guilty — evidence that's been withheld by the prosecution. Rosie is then forced to expose a friend in the D.A.'s office who concealed the information in an effort to use the case as her ticket into private practice. [9367]

8 P.M. (8) FBI: THE UNTOLD STORIES: In 1986, following an intensive investigation, Edward Arlen Marks became the only person ever arrested, tried and convicted of drug tampering in the United States.

Ore., when police Lt. John Bunnell uses every trick in the book — including employment of an informant, snitches, confiscation and a drug dog — in three cases involving accused drug dealers. In one investigation, detectives confiscate everything from the home of an alleged drug dealer who has marijuana plants all over his house. In a second case, snitches help in the apprehension of another alleged drug dealer. And in a third, an informant and a drug dog sniff out an alleged narcotics dealer. [8183]

SATURDAY TIPS DECEMBER 14

ON THE AIR

10:30 A.M. (13) ANNE OF GREEN GABLES: Repeat over 4-hrs. of the drama starring Megan Follows as the heroine of L.M. Montgomery's novel. The late Colleen Dewhurst and Richard Farnsworth also star. (R). [639269]

3 P.M. (13) ANNE OF GREEN GABLES: THE SEQUEL: Airing over 5 hrs. and 20 mins., the followup series in which, as a young adult, Anne Shirley continues her adventures and misadventures when she accepts the opportunity to teach at an exclusive girls' school. Megan Follows stars. [774627]

6 P.M. (2) POWER OF CHOICE: In "Raising Your Parents," a panel of teenagers defines what they want in a relationship with their parents. [207]

6 P.M. (5) HEISMAN MEMORIAL TROPHY AWARD SHOW: Bob Costas will host this live show, honoring the outstanding college football player of 1991, from the Downtown Athletic Club in New York City. [3375]

6:30 P.M. (2) DEGRASSI HIGH: Michelle is finding it difficult to juggle school and a job, but she has to pay the rent. Joey and Snake are turning their driving lessons into a competition. [559]

7 P.M. (2) LAWRENCE WELK: "A Champagne Toast to the Big Bands." [1511]

7 P.M. (4) CAROLINE?: Encore of the "Hallmark Hall of Fame" presentation focusing on the mystery surrounding the identity of a woman who returns to her family 15 years after she was presumed dead. Stephanie Zimbalist, Pamela Reed and George Grizzard star, and Patricia Neal and Dorothy McGuire are special guest stars. [16085]

7 P.M. (8) WINNIE THE POOH AND CHRISTMAS, TOO: New animated special which finds Pooh in trouble for failing to dispatch a community wish-list to Santa — then posing as the portly philanthropist to cover his act. [70646]

7 P.M. (33) COPS: Boston police officers serve drug warrants and find large amounts of cash and cocaine in multiple suspects' possession; investigate a call from a concerned family who
